The aim of my report is to give several recommendations to the museums and galleries' directors. I have been working on my project for a while now. My report is based on social statistics and my personal opinion.

I was doing some research and came upon the statistics with the amount of people visiting museums and galleries. According to the statistics some of the museums decreased in number of people visiting them annually, meanwhile other museums increased their attendance. For example, British Museum went from 2,6 million visitors to 5,6 million, but Science Museum went from 3,8 million to 1,6 million.

I would like to recommend museums' directors to make some improvements in order to make their rates go up. First of all, to appeal more visitors museums and galleries should provide people with good educational experience. Directors can hire guides and try to make the excursions worth every penny. Secondly, I would recommend to have some contests, olympiads taking place in museums. In addition, it will be great to arrange annual events providing snacks, small gifts, etc.

To sum up, I truly believe that all of my recommendations will help museums and galleries welcome more and more visitors.

My intention was to ^{help to} increase people's attendance and everything about it is respectively written.
